Deadlines to keep in mind:

Attendance First day of classes: RŞŰŞo ŰŰ NBCC σ 2023-2024 academic calendar for dates. Some programs may have different start times, please defer to the information provided by your academic department.

First-year students: Orientation begins at 9 a.m.! Please arrive early any time after 8 a.m. Atlantic standard time (AST). Classes start in the afternoon your first day. The majority of students can plan to be on campus however, some programs may be virtual. Watch for more information sent directly from your academic department.

Attendance is mandatory; students not present (in-class or virtual) on the first morning will be contacted once. Failure to respond to this communication will result in cancellation of enrolment and your seat will be offered to an applicant on the waitlist (if applicable). If valid reasons are provided for anticipated absence, email nbcc@nbcc.ca with the reason and provide the date you will join late. ALL students are expected to commence no later than the second Monday of the term for FIRST CLASS in the day. There are no exceptions to this rule and if this date/time cannot be met (regardless of the reason) you must withdraw acceptance and notify admissions@nbcc.ca.

Returning students: Program schedules will be available through Student Self-Service, please defer to information provided by your academic department.

Tuition/Fees: Tuition and fees are due on the first Friday after classes commence each term, however, you can pay fees early. Pay tuition and fees online for your convenience! LŞŰoŰ ΨŰoŞ ŰŰŰŰŰ NBCC σ μŰŰΨŞŰŰ ŰμŰŰŰŰσ here.

Tip: Ensure you activate your student account and Student Self-Service account before making online payment.
